

This report is designed to help students identify their mathematical strengths and areas for improvement. The assessment evaluates five key competencies that are essential for mathematical proficiency and problem-solving skills.

The scores in this report represent the student's performance across different mathematical domains. By analyzing these results, educators and parents can provide targeted support to enhance the student's mathematical abilities and build a strong foundation for future learning.

This report is divided into two sections: first, a summary of scores by mathematical competency area, and second, a detailed analysis that identifies specific strengths and weaknesses to guide personalized instruction and practice.

1. Overall Summary by Section

SECTION 1 - Calculation Ability

Assesses computational skills including arithmetic operations, mental math, and calculation accuracy. Measures speed and precision in mathematical computations.

SECTION 2 - Conceptual Understanding

Evaluates understanding of fundamental mathematical concepts including numbers, operations, shapes, and patterns. Tests the ability to explain and apply basic principles.

SECTION 3 - Conceptual Application

Measures the ability to apply mathematical concepts to various situations and contexts. Assesses flexibility in using mathematical knowledge across different problem types.

SECTION 4 - Reasoning Ability

Tests logical thinking, pattern recognition, and deductive reasoning skills. Evaluates the ability to analyze relationships and draw mathematical conclusions.

SECTION 5 - Problem Solving Ability

i Scoring Guide

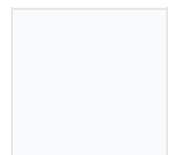

1. Score by Domain: The full score for each section is fixed at 100 points, and the combined total will differ.

2. Score Items: "Score" and "Standardized Score" items are based on a 100-point full score, so the scores and standardized score will be the same, with only the overall evaluation differing.

3. Score-Based Evaluation:

- high (상-89): 80 points or higher → Green
- medium (중 60-79): 60 points or higher → Orange
- low (하 <59): Below 60 points → Red
